

Virtual Silcton Documentation

Steven M. Weisberg, PhD

21 August, 2020

Contents

1	Virtual Silcton Introduction	5
2	Virtual Silcton Background	7
3	Experimenter Interface	9
3.1	Labs	9
3.2	Experimenters	9
3.3	Studies	9
3.4	Active vs. Inactive	9
3.5	Participant IDs	9
4	Building Studies	11
5	Administering to Participants	13
6	Participant Instructions	15
7	Data Analysis Tips and Scripts	17
7.1	Onsite Pointing data	17
7.2	Navigation Logs	17
7.3	Model Building Tasks	17

Chapter 1

Virtual Silcton Introduction

Welcome to the documentation for Virtual Silcton.

The Virtual Silcton environment was originally designed in Unity3D by Victor Schinazi and Drew Dara-Abrams. In 2011, Steven Weisberg began updating and maintaining the documentation and website for administration of the Virtual Silcton environment.

This documentation was drafted by Steven M. Weisberg and last edited on the date at the top of this page.

Figure 1.1: Virtual Silcton Image

Chapter 2

Virtual Silcton Background

Chapter 3

Experimenter Interface

3.1 Labs

3.2 Experimenters

3.3 Studies

3.4 Active vs. Inactive

3.5 Participant IDs

Chapter 4

Building Studies

Chapter 5

Administering to Participants

Chapter 6

Participant Instructions

Chapter 7

Data Analysis Tips and Scripts

7.1 Onsite Pointing data

7.2 Navigation Logs

7.3 Model Building Tasks